

What about tax rebates in 2011?

Currently, all tax rebate opportunities for insulation and roofing that have been in place since 2009 have expired.

You will still be able to process your rebate, but only if your project was installed and put into service before December 31st, 2010.

Rebate that expire in 2016 are limited to:

- Geothermal Heat Pumps
- Small Wind Turbines
- Solar Energy Systems
- Residential/Microturbine Fuel Cells

Of course, the energy-saving factor alone is usually enough reason to justify cool roof, insulation or radiant barrier projects. Call your MPI Sales Rep today for more information on our advanced, environmental and energy-friendly products.
